

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Fair World Project | Fall 2013

5 GMO OMG
by Jeremy Siefert

8 Stop Monsanto and Take Back our Food Supply
by Dave Murphy

9 La FEM: Empowering Women Farmers through Food Sovereignty and Environmental Stewardship
by Juana Villareyna Acuña

11 Trade Policy Reform Corner: Fair Trade & Immigrants Rights Land Grabs
by Joann Lo, Food Chain Workers Alliance
by Karen Hansen-Kuhn

13 Cultivating an Authentic Fair Trade
by Matt Early and Chris Treter

15 What is the Future of Fair and Sustainable Coffee
by Lee Wallace

17 Transforming the Tea Industry
by Phyllis Robinson

20 Our Global Community: Who are the Marginalized?
by Sue Kastensen

21 Sustainability in Fair Trade Crafts
by Manish Gupta

DAVE MURPHY

is the founder of Food Democracy Now!, a grassroots movement of more than 650,000 American farmers and citizens dedicated to reforming food and agriculture policy. In 2007, he filmed Barack Obama's famous promise to label GMOs. Dave's writing has appeared in The Nation, Huffington Post and New York Times.

PHYLLIS ROBINSON

is the Education and Campaigns Manager at Equal Exchange, a worker-owned fair trade cooperative selling coffee, tea, chocolate and bananas from small farmer cooperatives throughout Latin America, Africa and Asia. She began working at Equal Exchange eight years ago as the Producer Relations Coordinator and is now co-leading a new initiative, Principle Six Cooperative Trade Movement.

JEREMY SEIFERT

is a filmmaker, activist and father of three, whose debut film, "DIVE!" has won at twenty-two festivals worldwide, establishing him as a storyteller with heart and humor. His second film, "GMO OMG," tells the hidden story of the takeover of our food supply by giant chemical companies. Jeremy lives in North Carolina with his wife, Jen, and their children, Finn, Scout and Pearl.

CHRIS TRETER

is the founder and President of Higher Grounds Trading Co., Michigan's 100% fair trade and organic coffee roasting company. He is also a co-founder of On the Ground, a non-profit organization dedicated to supporting farming families around the world.

LEE WALLACE

is the Queen Bean of Peace Coffee, a fair trade organic coffee company based in Minneapolis, MN. She has served on the Board of Directors for Cooperative Coffees, the Fair Trade Resource Network and United Students for Fair Trade, as well as on the Roaster Advisory Council for TransFair USA.

Additional Contributors:
Cosmic Egg Studios

Cosmic Egg Studios is an eco-friendly design firm that services many of the like-minded companies in this industry.

Articles written are the view points from the authors and are not necessarily endorsed by Fair World Project. We encourage you to use your own judgement, ask questions, and visit our blog for more information.